FACILITIES, GENERAL.

Section 3.125(a) Structural strength: The animal housing facilities shall be structurally sound and shall be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury and to contain the animals.

The enclosure housing the two tigers has wire ends protruding down into the enclosure where the ground has eroded away from the back of the viewing windows. The erosion has also created a small gap under the public barrier to the viewing window. The facility is closed to the public for the winter. The ends of the wire and the gaps need to be covered to protect the tigers from injury.

The facility needs to ensure its maintenance program keeps the animal enclosures in good repair.

An exit briefing was conducted with the licensee.
