3.81 (a) (1)

ENVIRONMENT ENHANCEMENT TO PROMOTE PSYCHOLOGICAL WELL-BEING.

(a) Social grouping. The environment enhancement plan must include specific provisions to address the social needs of nonhuman primates of species known to exist in social groups in nature. Such specific provisions must be in accordance with currently accepted professional standards, as cited in appropriate professional journals or reference guides, and as directed by the attending veterinarian. The plan may provide for the following exceptions:.....

.....(1) If a nonhuman primate exhibits vicious or overly aggressive behavior, or is debilitated as a result of age or other conditions (e.g., arthritis), it should be housed separately;.....

There is a singly housed Blue Monkey and Java Macaque currently at the facility. There have been several failed attempts to pair house the animals with other non-human primates at the facility. The written environmental enrichment plan had not been updated to address the specific need to house the animals away from other primates due to aggressive behavior. The written environmental enrichment plan should be updated and reviewed by the attending veterinarian to address the specific needs of the animal(s) as set forth in this section in order to promote the health and well-being of the animals.
